

Jan. 20, 2004

Contact: Lisa A. Fellers
Director of Communications
Office: (817) 531-4498
Cell: (817) 874-8683
lfellers@txwes.edu

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Texas Wesleyan's Department of Music presents faculty recital featuring internationally acclaimed jazz artist Frank Mantooth

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20 – Texas Wesleyan University's Department of Music will present the Faculty Recital, "An Evening of Chamber Music," on Tuesday, Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Nicholas Martin Hall, inside the Ann Waggoner building at 1201 Wesleyan. Admission is free and open to the public.

The concert will feature Texas Wesleyan woodwind faculty and special guest artist, pianist and eleven-time Grammy nominee Frank Mantooth. Mantooth is an internationally acclaimed jazz artist who has published over 170 works. In addition, he has received several honors, including the Florence Crittenton Foundation's "Citizen of the Year" award in 1999 and the Homer Osborne award for outstanding contributions to jazz education. He resides in Garden City, Kansas, where he is active as a pianist, composer, arranger and educator.

###