

August 8, 2005

Contact: Laura Hanna
Director of Communications
Office: (817) 531-4498
lhanna@txwes.edu

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TEXAS WESLEYAN'S JOE BROWN DIRECTS MUSICAL AT JUBILEE THEATRE

A biblical tale set to gospel music hits center stage in the Jubilee Theatre musical, Book of Job, directed by Texas Wesleyan University's Joe Brown. This revival production was originally developed by Jubilee founder Rudy Eastman and Joe Rogers in 1996. Brown stepped in as director after the sudden passing of Eastman.

Book of Job runs through Aug. 21 at Jubilee Theatre, 506 Main St., in downtown Fort Worth. Showtimes are 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday; 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Additional performances will be at 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 11 and 18. Saturday matinee tickets are buy one adult ticket, get one free. Tickets for other shows are $14-25. Discounts available for students, seniors, and Star-Telegram press-pass holders. For more information, call 817-338-4411.

